

345 Webster Ave. Apt. 4-0
Brooklyn, New York 11230
January 18, 2016

Committee Chair
Attorney Grievance Committees
61 Broadway, 2nd Floor
New York, NY 10006

Subject: Request for review of Docket No. 2016. 2420, which concerns Jane E. Booth.

To Committee Chair:

The easiest and most efficient way to review this decision is to let me explain what happened at Columbia U. to you in person. I don't think pouring over my website will be enough:

"Rational Arguments For God's Existence: Evangelizing Is Good and Proselytizing Is Bad" (<http://www.newevangelist.me>).

After I got Mr. Dopico's letter, I sent an email to Ms. Booth and faxed a letter to Mr. Dopico. Ms. Booth has not yet responded to my email. The email and fax are at <http://www.newevangelist.me/booth-davis/ministry.html>

I am hereby requesting a meeting with you to explain things and answer any questions you have. The basis of my complaint is that Ms. Booth is violating to an egregious extent the academic freedom of the students and faculty of Columbia U. by suppressing my lecture/lesson on the arguments for God's existence. Her behavior is unethical and I am supposing it violates New York Rules of Professional Conduct 8.4c ("engage in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit or misrepresentation").

My complaint contains a link to my correspondence with the National Association of Scholars:

<http://www.newevangelist.me/wood-london/nas.html>

The NAS said the University Chaplain did not violate of academic freedom of anyone because she does not need me to explain the arguments for God's existence. However, the NAS completely misconstrued the content of my proposed lesson/lecture. Ms. Booth was acting on the University Chaplain's behalf when she sent the letter warning me not to contact the various ministers under the University Chaplain.

To understand what motivates people to behave so irrationally and dishonestly about God's existence, I suggest you look at my correspondence with the Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy:

<http://www.newevangelist.me/zalta-uri/nodelman.html>

Very truly yours,

David Roemer
347-414-2285